THE BULLETIN'S SYMPATHY FOR ITS WASHERWOMAN.

Debating the increment tax in the legislature, the conservative opposition took the position of favoring the principle of taxing the increment, but of disagreeing with the method by which the government proposed to collect the tax and with the fact that the amount collected was to be retained entirely by the province, the municipalities being precluded from participating. The most effective opposition criticism was found in Mr. Hoadley's amendment which provided that one-quarter of the revenue derived from the tax be retained by the province and three-quarters handed on to the municipality in which the tax was collected.

Inasmuch as that the community in which there is an increment to tax is the community which must have given the value to the land, the Hoadley amendment had a force of logic behind it probably greater than Hoadley himself realized, and this logic could be met squarely in no other manner than that in which the government did meet it, namely, by intimating that there is nothing to prevent municipalities applying to the legislature for power to collect additional taxes from the same source if the citizens thereof felt so inclined.

But the Bulletin, which has masqueraded for years under the color of liberalism while at the same time opposing every essentially liberal principle, comes out flatly against this, the most characteristically liberal piece of legislation ever attempted by any government in Canada. "Under force and example of the legislature," says the Bulletin, "the city might also enact that any man selling a lot for more than it is now assessed at must hand over five, ten or twenty-five per cent. of the increase in price," and from this the Bulletin argues that the increment tax is the culminating atrocity by which the government is going to rob poor washerwomen of possible profits they may have coming to them in unearned increment.

Waiving the point that, could increment be entirely abolished, washerwomen and others who work as hard would no longer find the earnings of their toil taken from them to an extent which leaves them perpetually haunted by the fear of want, there is the indubitable fact that whatever fortune the Bulletin's pathetic washerwoman may harvest from the increment without working for it, others—probably as poorly recompensed—must work for without getting.

As the public creates the entire land value, the public could retain the whole increment, if it so elected, through its municipal, provincial or federal government as the case might be, and do no injustice. Any part of the social value of land which the public permits to pass into the hands of the individual—be the individual the one who washes the Bulletin's dirty linen or other—constitutes an endowment to that extent from the public to that individual. The injustice is not in intercepting any part of this endowment, but in failing to do so.

The Bulletin's maudlin attempt to create sympathy for its washerwoman puts it in a class with the apologists of privilege who have been pleading the case of the "widowers and orphans" since ever there was a privilege consecrated by statute and cried over by lachrymose advocates of an established inequity.

THE DANGER OF SPLITTING THE TRIBUTE OF PROTECTION.

In making upon the federal government the formal demand that 10 per cent. of the customs and excise receipts be passed along to the provinces in addition to the grants now made to provinces out of the dominion treasury, the provincial premiers place themselves in the position of seeking to make the provincial governments which they represent beneficiaries of a protectionist policy.

The most unanswerable charge against the Borden government is that it has collected through the medium of the tariff fifty millions of dollars more than is required to conduct the business of the country, which it dignifies by the name of a surplus, and every dollar thus taken is a burden upon the industry of the Dominion of Canada. To split among the provinces any part of this tribute will not relieve the burden, although it may have the effect of giving some provincial parliamentarians the feeling that they are partners in the crime of protection.

TOO BUSY FOR LOQUACITY.

Eighty-three bills passed in six weeks, with the opposition holding up business for days at a time over the Waterways, is a record with which the government has reason to be satisfied.

Whatever may be said of the Alberta government by its protagonists, it cannot be claimed that it lacks efficiency. Its sessions have been marked by a journeyman-like competency. There is, proportionately, more good, solid work done and less time wasted in exuding "hot air" in the Alberta legislature than in probably any other legislative body in the Dominion.

The reason is not far to seek. The Alberta government recognizes that its mission is that of a representative body. The people of Alberta, whom it represents, are too busy for loquacity.

THE CALGARY COUNCIL'S ATTITUDE TOWARD REFERENDUM.

Along with other things, the electors of Calgary will be asked upon the occasion of their municipal election to declare whether or not they are in favor of paying their aldermen $1,000 a year for their services.

Calgary citizens should have no difficulty in deciding that if salaries are to be paid the city might as well pay sufficient to warrant the recipients of the salaries devoting their whole time to the service of the city.

But the important point is that the Calgary city council has no hesitation about submitting to the electors' decision a question affecting municipal government. The Edmonton council could gather wisdom by taking this into consideration.

CORRESPONDENCE

THAT $5,000,000.

The Editor, Edmonton Capital:

Sir,—Mr. Short has apparently adopted a policy of masterly inactivity in regard to the challenge of the correctness of his statement. Such a policy is sometimes commendable and appropriate in a great man, but in a small man is liable to be mistaken for fear.

At the meeting of the city council on the 21st of this month Alderman East asked the mayor for particulars of the $5,000,000, and the mayor is reported as having said that such would be furnished on completion of the present audit. Does this mean that Mr. Short does not know how the amount is made up? If not, how does he know that it exists at all? Surely he should have waited for the completion of the special audit before asserting Commissioner Chalmers to the municipal committee of the legislature. Is Mr. Short trusting to the bare chance of the 21st auditor now at the city hall finding something that no one knows of?

On pages 32 and 33 of the city's annual report for 1912 appears a statement showing a total expenditure "pending capitalization" of $2,859,582.30. Authorities for this expenditure are given in a separate column, except for local improvements, which were entitled under the large number of separate resolutions of the council covering them. On page 34 there is a statement showing independent capital funds of $2,231,911.69. On page 19 in the auditor's written report there is an explanation of the above mentioned statements. I would ask anyone having a copy of the current report to refer to the pages indicated above. It will be observed from the statements on pages 32 and 33 that the council by its own resolution authorized and instructed the commissioners to show these things as they appear. Apparently holds the commissioners are simply the arm of the council, the latter body being, as the report says, "the authority."

In January last Mr. Short mentioned $4,000,000 (one figure less) in connection with something else, but as Kipling says, that is another story which I shall tell some other time. You will observe the readiness for the figure 2 and a number of ciphers, which later mean nothing—of course, to not matter. Perhaps the two street numbers are distinctly connected with that seeming love of things in vast quantities.

I suggest that Mr. Short show Mr. Chalmers the judicial investigation he has requested, and if not on all charges brought against Mr. Chalmers, then let it be restricted to this question of $5,000,000. Surely such a large amount is worthy the expenditure of a little more in order to be certain as to where the figure lies.

I am not asking for Mr. Chalmers that which we have traditionally held to be the highest standard of justice—British justice—nor am I asking for him the treatment one might expect from reputedly Christian men presumed to have a conscience, but I do ask that at the least he be accorded the consideration one would give a dog—that is, that before you "bark your dog you would wait to be sure of what you were barking him for." I conclude by quoting—

"I am in a place where I am demanded of existence to speak the truth, and speak it I will, inasmuch it behooves me."

Yours faithfully,
C. E. RICHMONDSON,
Edmonton, Oct. 29, 1913.

SHOULD PRESENT ALTERNATIVE SCHEME

Dear Sir,—As a subscriber of your most valuable paper and a taxpayer of the City of Edmonton, allow me to voice my sentiments in the house-numbering controversy which is causing considerable trouble owing to the fact that at the present time there is absolutely no house numbering system for the City of Edmonton, as the old has been discarded and the new has been stopped. Personally I have no favorite in the house numbering scheme, but does it not look reasonable that the opposition should present to the intelligent people of this city a feasible house numbering scheme that will take the place of the one proposed by Mayor Short and thereby show the citizens that it is not for an election issue that they are taking this present house numbering into court, but rather a proposition to better the conditions. I believe I may safely say that the attitude of the people who are supporting this injunction is not being favorably looked upon, simply because they can produce no alternative scheme.

Yours respectfully,
MAGNUS SQUARDS,
North Edmonton P.O.

AUSTRIA HUNGARY MEN SERIOUSLY COMPROMISED

In Raid on C.P.R. Offices—Other Companies Were Brought Into Lime-light.

London, Oct. 29.—Austria from Vienna state that as a result of investigation brought about by the recent raid upon the offices of the Canadian Pacific railway in Austria-Hungary other companies are being brought into the lime-light. The latest revelations show that the Austrian commercial ministry and the Austrian American line are seriously compromised.

It appears that a letter was suggested by Baron Weichsel, chief of the shipping department, pointing out the unfavorable conditions which "arise" to the order for the publication of the facts was ignored, with the object of obtaining contracts for railway material.

The meeting of the parliamentary committee, at which the revelations were made, closed in an uproar.

WANT HALT IN WAR EXPENSES

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29.—The national council of Congregational churches today appealed in a resolution to President Wilson and members of congress to call a halt in the "swelling expenditures for the paraphernalia of war." The resolution, however, was not adopted without opposition.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

All Canada resounded to cheers of patriotic enthusiasm 14 years ago today, the eve of the departure of the first Canadian contingent of troops for South Africa. At the banquet given in Quebec that evening the Hon. F. W. Borden, Minister of Militia, expressed the sentiments of nearly all Canadians when he said: "This was the people's movement, not that of any government or party; it emanated from the whole people of Canada, and it is being followed by them as shown by the words and deeds of the people at all points where the troops started from." From St. John and Charlottetown to Vancouver and Victoria there were manifestations of the imperial spirit wholly without precedent in Canada. Everybody was singing "The Soldiers of the Queen." Quebec, the point of departure, decorated all its principal streets in the imperial colors. Delegates from nearly all the cities and towns of the Dominion assembled there to give the troops a glorious "send-off." On the 30th the Earl of Minto, the governor-general, in a farewell address to the troops, declared that the event marked "a new chapter in the history of our empire." An immense throng cheered the thousand soldiers of the Dominion when they sailed away—some of them never to return. The troopship Sardinian arrived at Cape Town on Nov. 25. The contingent, known as the Royal Canadian Imperial regiment, was commanded by Lieut.-Col. D. Otter, a veteran of the Northwest rebellion.

Abolishing the consensual person school and establishing consolidated or centralized schools is advocated in a bulletin just issued by the United States bureau of education.

The story of the play, rather than play itself is told in the pictures, which make in entertainment lasting about hour and a half. The costumes and settings are those used in the play, but absence of words has made necessary elimination of the long scenes and the production of numerous episodes to further tell the story of the drama, which laid around the love of the English queen for the Earl of Essex. It would scarcely be fair, therefore, to judge the play by the pictures.

Cosmopolitan Gathering at Banquet for World Champs

Nineteen of Twenty-Five Members of Athletic Baseball Team With Connie Mack are Guests of Honor at Big Affair in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Under the leadership of Mayor Blankenship, Philadelphians, of every shade of political belief, and of many different walks of life, united last night in a testimonial dinner to the athletes, winners of the world's baseball championship. Governor Tener, President Hemmestad, of the New York National Club, President Baxter, of the Philadelphia national, former Mayor Royburn and other speakers expressed their admiration for the sportsmanship displayed by Connie Mack and the players of the Philadelphia American league team.

Nineteen of the 25 players who shared in the winner's portion of the series with the New York Giants were present. The absentees were Combs, who is still confined to his bed; Houtz, Greer and Daley who are the Pacific coast; Laven, who is studying at University of Michigan; and Fitcher Shulway.

Preceded by the police band and escorted by a squad of the mounted police, the players rode in automobiles from the ball park to the centre of the city. At the banquet hall they were greeted by nearly 200 diners.

CLOSE RACE IN SOCCER LEAGUE

Queens Avenue and Norwood Fight for Second Place.

In spite of the weather the final games of the schedule in the public school soccer league are being played off this week. McCleary school has practically clinched first place in the league, but there is an interesting race for second place. Queens Avenue has been holding this position in the standing for some time, with Norwood a close third. Monday the two teams met with Queens' only one point ahead of Norwood, and it was apparent that if Norwood should win the game, which would give that school two points, it would put it in second place, ahead of Queens. Consequently the game was hard fought from start to finish. Both teams played excellent football and the game ended a tie, each team winning one point and the standing remained unchanged. These two teams have one game each yet this week, so that there may be a chance for Norwood yet.

In a field covered with snow, which caused very poor football, Queen Alexandra beat McKay school 2 to 0. Queen Alexandra were at the bottom of the nine-team league, and McKay has been occupying fourth place, so the result of the game was a big surprise. The standing of the teams follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Pts.
McCleary	5	0	1	11
Queen's Avenue	5	1	1	11
Norwood	4	1	2	10
King Edward	4	2	0	8
McKay	2	4	1	5

WINNIPEG CURLERS PLAN INVADE EAST

Pair of Crack Rinks May Go to Lindsay, Ont. This Winter

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—It plans at present under consideration, mature, eastern folk will have an opportunity to see a pair of the crack Winnipeg rink in action this winter. President Rochon is trying to make arrangements to take a couple of strong rinks to Lindsay, Ont., the home of J. D. Flavell. Mr. Flavell has been coming steadily to the local bonspiel for a period of eighteen years, and no rink from this city has paid the east a visit since the time, many years ago, that Walter Payne and D. Jamieson, invaded that territory.

It is expected that the two "Mac" Brothers and Rochon will lead the rinks on their trip. They intend to play at other places than Lindsay, but that is the real destination.

Reports Indicate Calgary Tigers "Leetle" Dubious

All the Dope Points to a Victory for the Eskimos in the Final Championship Rugby Match at Red Deer.

Reports from Calgary indicate that the Tigers are badly scared. There is no doubt that when they go on the field at Red Deer next Saturday for the final championship rugby match with the Edmonton Eskimos they will be the most humble bunch of Tigers the Eskimos have ever had to deal with. Since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary the Calgary Tigers have dealt cockily and confidently with the Eskimos and it has been a thorn in the side of both players and fans of this town for years. Now the worn are turned. The Eskimos go to Red Deer next Saturday, confident of winning. They have demonstrated that they have the better team and all indications point to an overwhelming victory for the local team.

But—(Oh, that ever present "but")—But, you never can tell how far a cat will jump when it is scared. Do Tigers fight harder when they are scared than when they are confident? There is no doubt that the Tigers will put up the hardest fight that is in them and they have always had the better luck. So there you are. The Eskimos should win by all the laws of dope—But.

With Percy Hardisty in the game for the Eskimos to keep the kicking end of the game even and few fumbles in the back field there is no other way of sizing the thing up than that the big bunch of rooters that goes down to Red Deer next Saturday is going to make a big noise after the game.

RUSSEL FORD IS NEW YORK SCOUT

Is in Moose Jaw Looking for Material for Chance's Ball Team.

Moose Jaw, Oct. 23.—Russell Ford, pitcher of the New York Americans, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. Ford is on his way to his home in Seattle, where he owns a large tract of land and where his parents reside. While here Ford will confer with Lou Clarke of the Moose Jaw Millers, on behalf of Manager Frank Chance, of the Yankees. Chance is sorely in need of one or two pitchers and is very hard up for a good first baseman.

Concannon is the pitcher whom Ford will inquire about here, while as a first baseman he thought of by Ford Ford will likely set a try-out with owner Farrell's team in the spring if Ford can make satisfactory arrangements with Clarke whereby the two players will be let away from Moose Jaw.

Orders have been issued by the governor for the disarmament of all Moro constabulary in Jolo.

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. OF GRAIN YET TO THRESH

Chicago Grain Export Pessimistic Over Situation in Saskatchewan.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—In Manitoba threshing is completed, the bulk of the crop already marketed, and fall plowing is well ahead, the amount done being already above the average of former years, said B. W. Snow, the well known Chicago crop expert, who was in Winnipeg Monday on route to Chicago.

Mr. Snow has been some weeks in Manitoba and Saskatchewan looking into conditions. He is somewhat pessimistic of the outlook in Central Saskatchewan. He states that there was a freeze up on October 22. Now frost is keeping things at a standstill. There has been but two days' threshing since October 25, and everything is behind. He estimates 25 per cent. of the crop yet to thresh, and the percentage of the fall plowing done much below the average.
